This is written specifically for Women about putting men into chastity.

Sure, the males may read it since they already know the truth of it.

Many Women are finding it odd that their husbands/partners are interested in chastity. Why would a man want You to stop him from touching himself? A Woman can understand putting a man in chastity so that he cannot cheat on Her. Most Women would say ‘why chastity, I trust my husband’. Perhaps you do trust him. But he may not trust himself. Maybe he doesn’t think you trust him and this way he can be sure that you know he is in fact faithful. Trust is one of the most important factors to any relationship. TEXT REMOVED IN THIS SAMPLE CONTENT - PLEASE ORDER FOR THE FULL ARTICLE

Remember, that the world has been a mockery of a male oriented power society for some time. Many truths have been perverted (re-written) to appear that the men were the most powerful. I am not spouting any religious affiliation nor saying anything wrong with any religion. I am only making brief comments that You may wish to read up on or research. TEXT REMOVED IN THIS SAMPLE CONTENT - PLEASE ORDER FOR THE FULL ARTICLE

It is amazing how many cultures had Women rulers. We do still have Queens. A Woman gave birth to the man, gives birth so that life continues, and then nurtures and teaches.

Why do men fight in wars? To keep Us safe. TEXT REMOVED IN THIS SAMPLE CONTENT - PLEASE ORDER FOR THE FULL ARTICLE

Some cultures try to demoralize the female body by clitoral circumcision. Cultures demand that the Women will not wear clothing to be provocative and must hide themselves from the eyes of men. You know what I am talking about. The men are chicken shits and know that when a Woman expresses Her full-empowered self We cannot be resisted.

It has been said that proof of the fact Women were inferior is because the words wo-men and fe-male had the male entities as part of the word. Excuse Me... it is the ‘men’ and the ‘male’ that are a part of Us. Chopping off some of the word makes them only a lesser part.

Men are a humorous creature, and one You should have a delight in controlling. By asking for chastity the male is admitting that he needs You to control him. Don't be shocked. Chastity is very, very common. Often we do not see behind the scenes of a marriage to see exactly how much the Woman rules in the relationship.

If this male is your partner then they have come to you saying, "honey, I love you so much that I want you to lock my dick away because it is yours." You know how special men think their cock and balls are. So they are offering You the greatest gift that they physically can. No amount of money or sweet talk will ever amount to them asking for chastity.

Men never want to lose the nurturing that their Mother gave them. Placing a man in chastity lets him know you are taking care of him even if he is not with You at the moment. Biologically, humans are not a monogamous creature. We can look to some of the few remaining native tribes, which show us the community living, which is inherent to Our species. Many tribes have a community of Women and a community of men. We have maintained this grouping desire. Men bind together in sports. Women bind together in activities usually associated with nurturing. Why is it that we go to the bathroom in groups? It is in our nature. Women want and need to connect to One another. Our nature is to gather and grow. Women gather together. We harvest. We grow crops. We keep our children with Us helping them grow. We are responsible for Our children and thusly the world. Knowing how important We really are can be a shock.

Chastity can be a fantasy but when the reality of not being able to touch himself and that You have the key may overwhelm him. A little warning here... do not keep the key where he can find it. He will look. To be in chastity prohibits the man from sexual activities. Really now, no matter how much flirting or attempts he makes on a Woman, when She feels or sees the device She will respect that he is taken. If he is real creative he may find a way to still orgasm with it on. Depending on the device and how stubborn the man is, he may simply cut the lock or the device. Rest assured these problems can be solved. A molded piece of metal where the small of the lock rests prohibits it from being cut. There are metal chastity devices.

You may wish to consult a local Mistress to ask her questions on which ones She thinks is best and why. Chances are You do not know a Mistress personally. There are Professional Dominatrixes that offer chastity services. There would be several reasons YOU would like to establish a relationship with a Pro-Domme. There is a major different in a Pro-Domme and an escort. The escort will not have the experience You seek. Besides most escorts could be offered enough money to get the key whereas a Pro-Domme would be more likely to inform You of his attempt. Pro-Dommes also offer NO sexual services.

The first time the unit is installed is not an easy task. There are several different parts that will adjust the way the unit fits. Someone who has experience installing the device with know how tight is too tight. You can attend the ‘fitting’ and ask questions as She puts the unit on properly. Having a Pro-Domme established also means that you have someone who can hold the second key. Things happen. Keys get lost. If you do not want a Mistress to be the key holder then take an envelope and write a note to your friend explaining what the key is for and seal the note and key inside. Then ask a friend to keep it incase you need it or incase something happens to you. Sure that will make eyebrows raise and questions. I never promote lying so I would tell the truth “there is a key in there I need for safekeeping”.

We women are extremely sexual creatures. But having the chores of child bearing and working we often feel run down. Wouldn’t it be nice to have a hot bubble bath waiting for you when you came home? Think how wonderful it would be to have chores done correctly and promptly. Perhaps for the privilege to let him jack off, after you secured him to furniture first. Getting an erection while in chastity is uncomfortable, to some even painful. But do not let this fool You. If it hurt so badly it would not be getting erect. Being in chastity can make him excited. You are in a win-win situation! Have him please you orally if you desire. Being chastised and ‘having’ to give You pleasure will make him swell and feel the discomfort. You rule when and if he gets sex. You may find that Your life will be more enjoyable, not just in the bedroom. Start thinking of rewards. If he wants to watch the game, then he has to first please you.

After he mentioned to You the idea of chastity, You probably just let the thought pass. But now You have an understanding of the dynamics. Your mind and heart can begin to feel the possibilities. Explain that once You put him in and the lock is in place, that You will not remove it until the set date/time. Don’t give in! Under no condition except an emergency at the hospital should You unlock the devices. The begging and complaining is all part of chastity. Just because he is in chastity does not mean he wants to have on a collar and lead around or get spankings. BDSM does not always go hand in hand with Chastity. Chastity is considered a part of the BD fetish lifestyle. The ‘B’ stands for Bondage, which is what the male is in. The ‘D’ stands for Discipline which chastity can be when used as a punishment reward system.

You will have him clean the area when he wakes (and while in the shower is fine), again when he comes home from work, and then again before bed. If You want, You may be the one cleaning the cock and balls. . TEXT REMOVED IN THIS SAMPLE CONTENT - PLEASE ORDER FOR THE FULL ARTICLE

Remember that in this offer he is giving You is worth more than any money can purchase. It shows he wants to desire You. It shows he wants to be close emotionally. It says, please take care of me so I don't have to think about other things. It could say he wants You to help him make the relationship work because of a fear of infidelity.

Just because he wants to be in chastity does NOT mean he wants a bitch for a partner. There is a lot of difference between being strong and doing what is best for him (like a mother does for her child) and just being mean because you can be. Many Women have found that their relationship has so much less turmoil that they find themselves actually nicer to their mate.
